INDIANA. Riot at Jeffersonville-Negroes of Grant Torchlight Procession Attack Citizens in the Street-Pistels Fired

(Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.) LOUISVILLE, September 13.—The city of Jeffersonville, Indiana, directly opposite here, has been in a state of intense excite-ment all day, over the outrages of a negro mob, in a political torch-light procession of the night previous. Hon. Nat. Kimball, a Grant stump orator, was announced to speak at McCampbell's Park, and a large delegation of negroes and white men came up from New Albany to participate in the torchlight procession. Their conduct during the parade was outrageous. The tes-timony of citizens of veracity and standing testifies to the fact that a portion of the negroes and white men from Jettersonville cted in a very creditable manner, and atempted to assist the officers of the law in reserving order.

Theo. Gilbert, a prominent citizen, states hat he saw a negro in the procession on Chestnut street, flourishing a pistol and de-claring he would go to prison to get to kill a Greeley man. He used vulgar and disorder-ly language, and officer Seaman arrested him. A crowd of negroes from the procession then attacked the officer, beat him severely and rescued the negro. During the melee the negroes in the line flourished pis-tols, and fired into the crowd on the sidewalk. Quinn, Deputy Marshal of the place, saw a crowd of negroes, one hundred in number, chasing two white men up an alley. He threw bimself in front of the mob and tried to stop it. He was attacked and seriously beaten with torches and butts of pis-The cry was "Damn the Democratic police.

Mr. Keigwin, a most prominent citizen, states that in front of Mozart Hall, Burley, a negro, shouted, "Raise, boys, raise," and took a crowd with him after a party of white men, who were spectators on an adjacent

The negroes used the vilest language toward ladies in door-ways, and several times attacked private houses with stones and firearms, firing through closed doors and windows. Every white man found on the streets with his thumbs in the armholes of his was fired at an chased, with cries of "Shoot west. Shortly after the sporting man saw two men descend hurriedly from the control of the houses opposite, one of ward ladies in door-ways, and several times therwise injuring him. The cards of officers and citizens will be published in the papers here, to-morrow, rehearsing the facts and counselling quiet. The excitement runs high to-night, and the indignation of the citizens of Jefferson-toned closely, asked for and went to the bounds. Their wives and daughters have his friends in the meantime waiting at the been insulted and mistreated and themselves bar. Spanish Vessels-Heavy Defalcation NEW YORK, September 14.-There now in this port three Spanish men-of-war. They will remain in port several weeks. Two others are expected from Maitinas, but should they have yellow fever will be instructed to proceed further north, probably to Portland The Numancia is now ready for sea, and will probably sail for Cadiz this evening. She has lost in all nine seamen and two officers by vellow fever. There are no vellow fever patients now in the hospital and doubtle there will be no more this season. One of the most important races of th eason and which has been agitating sporting circles for some time, is the single scull co test, for one thousand dollars, Thursday. In betting Ward is the favorite There are no takers on even bets, and only bets of odds in favor of Ward can be made Both men are actively training for the race which no doubt will be hotly contested. Wall street was startled late yesterday afternoon by the announcement that a heavy defalcatian had occurred in the banking and brokerage house of Wm. B. Clark, 25 street. It is stated that Richard B. Butler, recently admitted as a partner in the house, had during the clerk's absence in the country converted various securities amounting to about a hundred thousand dollars into gold and left the city. The clerk arrived in the city in the early part of the week, and after a careful examination discovered that a number of the securities were missing. Butler has not since been seen, and it is sup posed he has gone to South America. The defalcation will not probably financially affect the house, which is of long standing.

Gen. Sherman is expected in the steamship Balbec from Europe which is due here either to-day or to-morrow. Mrs. Sherman arrived here yesterday from Washington and will await the General's arrival at the Astor The recent failures of grocery and provi-

NEW YORK-CITY. Buckalew's Election Conceded-Camer

New York, September 14.—A letter from Philadelphia to the World announces that the Pennsylvania Radicals concede Buckalew's election, and Cameron is now trying to save the Legislature by trading votes, two to one. The correspondent says: "The despersave the Legislature by trading votes, two to one. The correspondent says: "The desperation of the Grant party is, since the Louisville fizzle, doubly intensified. Cameron swears eternal vengeance against those who, so far as this State is concerned, managed the miserable abortion. Many of our merchants and other business men believe the money paid out so extravagantly by State Treasurer Mackey for the purpose of furnishing delegates for Louisville, came from the State Treasury. Every indication of coming events freasury. Every indication of coming events points conclusively to Buckalew's coming down to Philadelphia with the popular ma-jority of thirty thousand, which will be in-creased, if an honest count of the votes of this city is given him. To secure the re-election of Simon Cameron it becomes necessary to defeat Colonel Duchert, candidate for Senator in the First District, which is very close. To do this eight hundred Democrats have been recently put to work in the Navy Yard, on condition that they will vote the whole Democratic ticket, excepting only the candidate for State Senator. For this office they are to vote for the Cameron can-didate. In addition to this, Republican votes are to be traded off for Democratic votes in the proportion of two to one—that is, two Republican votes will be given for Buckalew for each vote given to the Cam-eron candidate for State Senator. I mention this as showing the hopelessness of their cause, and how unscrupulous the Cameron managers are. One hundred letter carriers and fifty custom-house employes in Phila and fifty custom-nouse employes in Finla-delphia have been detailed to attend the Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburg.

The following story appears in print, as-suming to give the facts on which the pub-lic authorities rely for convicting Forrester of the Nathan murder. On the night of the murder a prominent sporting man went to a gambling house in Broadway and retired broke. He left early in the forenoon and walked to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He remained in the corridors for a time until the servants commenced, about 4 A. M., to wash the floor with hose. He then went out and walked around to Twenty-third street, where his attention was attracted to a man who walked up and down the south side him," "Kill him; he's a Greeley man."

A citizen named Win. Long, while standing in front of his door, was struck in the eye with a stone, knocking his eye out and the control of the house was the Nathan mansion. steps of one of the houses opposite, one of whom had his coat buttoned to his chin. three hastened in the direction of North closet. He remained there fifteen minutes of the bar keeper a package, which on being opened afterward was found to contain a shirt of peculiar make, saturated with blood A reporter tried to obtain information from

The convict was a "pal" of Forrester. The sporting man, among a large number of photographs, picked out a portrait of Forrester as the man who was walking up and down.

This, it is said, is what the authorities will prove on the trial, Wednesday next. George Ellis, who was privately confined, for a long time, in the Sixth Precinct Station House, having been brought from the State prison, will swear that the "dog" which was used in murdering Mr. Nathan was stolen from Mr Schenck's house by Forrester and himself and that both of them used it in various bur glaries. As the question stands now, Forre ter was only an accessory, and was not the man who committed the murder. The Sun continues to follow up the disclo sures concerning the bribery of prominent

Grant Congressmen by Oakes Ames. It says in an article to-day:
"We have already stated that many months since, soon after we became avare of the existence of Colonel McComb's testimony, on of our reporters visited one of the more con spicuous members of Congress mentioned in Oakes Ames's list, and this member admit ted to him that, so far as he was concerned the fact was so. Here we have the confession of one of these persons that this system of bribery was really furnished, and that Oakes Ames did not lie when he stated that he had made such a distribution of Credit Mobilier stock among members of Congress, In addition to this testimony we now have that of another prominent Republican in the House of Representatives, who has in the House of Representatives, who has personally informed us that in the latter part of 1867 the proposition to allot to him a portion of the Credit Mobilier stock was made to him by a member of the Credit Mobilier Company, and it was declined. This agent said to our informant: 'All your friends are in it,' showed him a list of names written on a paper saying 'these are the Senators on a paper, saying, 'these are the and members who have an interest Since the fourth instant the sum of the case is proved. Yesterday a lady from Joliet, Illinois, came to this city in search of her truant husband, and through the efforts of the police succeeded in tracing him to a boarding house on East Maryland street, beyond Virginia avenue. This gentleman, a painter by trade, had been boarding there for some time in company with his supposed wife and child; but two weeks ago the last mentioned left for a visit to their relations in Illinois nois. The lady yesterday claimed to be the ranking wife, and she immediately installed herself in his apartments and patiently waited for his return from work. What passed between them is not known, but this morning he amounted to have a later of the l morning he appeared to have accepted the situation and went off to his labor as usual.

MA ADVERTISEMENTS INSERTED AS EDITORIAL MA

How any Liberal Republican can vote for General Tom Browne after he has denounced them as dishonest men, is something we can not understand.

WE don't hear quite so much talk about all the rich men being for Grant as we did a while back. The rich men may own a majority of the dollars, but they don't own a majority of the votes in this

An equitable fee and salary law, honestly carried out, will save the taxpayers of Marion county seventy-five thousand dollars a year. That is an item worth thinking about. The Liberal candidates such a law.

THE poor man who owns a little home and finds it hard work to pay heavy taxes on it, would sensibly feel a reduction of taxation to the amount of $75,000 in this county. If county officers were paid what their services are worth, about that much could be saved to the taxpayers.

GEN. LEW. WALLACE has written a long letter in reference to General Grant's habits. He says he was perfectly sober during the battle of Shiloh. Doctors disagree in this as in many other cases. The Cincinnati Gazette and other leading Republican papers insisted at that time that he was drunk, and demanded his removal. The Gazette should now make the amende honorable.

Business men must be very careful whom they trust now. Their dearest friend or their nearest neighbor may betray and swindle them. There is a fearfully large number of dishonest men in this community. We know this is so, for General Tom Browne, the Grantite candidate for Governor, says every man who votes for Greeley is dishonest, and Greeley will get a powerful lot of votes in this neck of woods.

THE Republican party in this county two years ago fully pledged itself to a reform in the fees and salaries of the county offices, and to the one-term principle. How has it carried out its pledges? Two county officers have been nominated for re-election, and the members of the Legislature who voted for a fee and salary law, which should save the taxpayers of Marion county thousands of dollars every year, were slaughtered when they came into convention asking a renomination. Call you this sticking to your principles?

THE organs are diligently grinding out the tune that Greeley is losing ground remarkably fast, and has no earthly show for success now. We don't see that they relax any efforts to beat him. They are working harder than ever, and spending more money. There is not a ring in the country that is not doing all it can to defeat Mr. Greeley, and there is not a speculator who fattens on other men's hard labor who is not loudly blowing about the financial crisis we shall have if Grant is defeated. This is all stuff. We have raised too much wheat and corn in Indiana this year to fear a crisis, even if we should have no President.

We publish in another column an article from the Chicago Tribune in reference to the operations of the Credit Mobelier, an inside organization that built the Pacific railroad. It must be remembered that these astounding charges are not the loose utterances of political opponents, but developments made in a court of justice, which implicate members of both parties. If they be true it is a terrible revela tion of the extent to which corruption has pervaded our national affairs. These charges have been widely published for two weeks, but as yet Speaker Blaine is the only man who has denied them, even evasively. If such men as Dawes and Blaine and Wilson and Colfax can have accepted these bribes, whom can we trust? We sincerely hope the matter can trust? We sincerely hope the matter can be satisfactorily explained.

The evils of the two term system are briefly alluded to in an editorial which we reproduce from the New York Tribune. The same state of things is visible in this county on a minor scale. A further evil in the system that rules our county offices is the fixing of the succession. A favorite deputy is put forward as a candidate, months perhaps years before the election takes place, and to ensure his election the whole power and infirence of the office is used. It is true that this often secures an experienced officer, but it enables an officer to cover up his derelictions should there be any. Should he have violated his trust in any manner, or, not to put too fine a point on it, should he have swindled the people, he is enabled by selecting and aiding his successor, to cover up his delinquencies, and it is possible in this manner to hide the most outrageous acts from the people for

THE EVENING NEWS. years, long after there is any hope of think they will not vote for the system of this has been done or is being done. We hope not. But the possibility that it may be done is what we want to guard against.

> WE need in this county at least one thorough business man as County Commissioner. This is an office of great importance, and we do not believe it should always be turned over to the country as a sort of sop to Cerberus. The farmer, no matter how honest and intelligent he may be, is not always the man to be trusted with the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars, the levying of setts Liberal Republican State Convention. taxes and other important work which is done by the County Commissioner. A man of ripe business knowl edge and extensive experience should al. should be composed of men of different parties. It would be to the benefit of the tax-payers always to have one of the Commissioners selected from the party in the minority, in order to act as a check upon the Board and cause it to thoroughly examine matters before it ordered money to

Mr. Greeley's Chances.

The organs, the stump speakers and the Grant partisans generally are greatly rejoiced over the elections in Vermont and Maine. We are really unable to see much cause for joy in their results, but have no fault to find with our opponents if they for the Legislature are pledged to vote for can. In both these States, particularly in the latter, money was spent like water, every influence was brought to bear. and the whole power of the Federal government was used to secure the success of the administration party. The Liberals and Democrats made a strong fight, but it was a hopeless one from the start. New England has been overwhelmingly Republican for years, the reform movement hardly reached that section, the people were not affected enough by it to be influenced, and the mere effort to reduce the majorities in States that could not be carried under the circumstances was a game we do not consider worth the candle. It is in the West and South that Mr. Greeley must look for his main vote if he is to be elected, and this opinion we find carried out in a speech by Colonel C. H. Grosvenor, of Missouri. in Ohio day before yesterday, from which we make the following extract, analyzing "But, let me say frankly, that Maine is not a test of the character or force of the liberal movement. The movement began in the Northwest, and had for its main ob ject reforms peculiarly needful to the welfare of the Western people. They are injured by the prostration of industry in Southern States, which prolonged misrule has caused. They are plundered by systems of finance and taxation designed and main tained for the benefit of Eastern capitalists Above all, they are keenly alive to the dan gers of imperialism, personal government, and centralization of power. We began the Liberal movement relying upon two large bodies of voters-the German Republican and the revenue tariff Republicans. The power of these elements in the Northwestern States we knew. That they were not strong in the Eastern States we knew, and therefore I strongly opposed mak-ing any such contest in Maine that the result would be regarded as any test of our strength. With what hope of success can we appeal to Eastern bondholders against a financial policy which enriches them; or to Eastern monopolists against a system of tax-ation which plunders the West for their benefit? That the tariff reformers of the North-west are united in supporting the Liberal movement, those can testify who best know movement, those can testify who best know its strength. That the German Republicans are moving almost unanimously to the sup-port of Mr. Greeley, such meetings prove as have gathered to hear Carl Schurz in Bloomington, and Chicago, in many towns in Illi-nois and Ohio, and especially on Tuesday night in Cincinnati. In Maine, then, the Administration has not met the main body of the Liberal forces. It has found only few unorganized and straggling recruits, and shouts over its easy victory as if it were a sign of like results when it meets the compact, organized and resolute Liberal forces of the Northwest. The German Republican force alone holds the balance of power in six States of the West-in Illinois, Indiana, States of the West—in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska. What trace of this force was seen or expected in Vermont or Maine? To ascertain the real strength of the German vote, we must not divide the population of German nativity by the ordinary ratio of population to voters. Most of the foreign immigrants are adults; their children born in this country are included in census returns as netives of are included in census returns as natives of the United States. One-half of our whole the United States. One-nair of our whole population is less than ten years of age; at least one-third of all persons of German parentage and speech are children born of German parents. The true ratio of voters to ns of German nativity is, therefore, one to four; in my own State, where fully one to four; in my own the number is closely known, it is even larg er. Allowing one voter to four persons o German nativity, as given in the census re-turns of 1870, we have for the Northwestern States the following number of German voters, which please contrast with the Re publican majorities at the latest contested ections in the several States: German voters. Majorities Year 17,382 9,572 51,150 16,179 24,150 2,491 14,988 25,883 medying them. We do not know that is has been done or is being done. We been wronged so long. The German Republicans, taught by early experience in other lands to resist the first approaches of despotism, centralization and personal government will not be divided. Let the voice of the Northwest be heard in October, and jubilant the Liberal army, shall learn for the time what its force really is."

THE CREDIT MOBILIER.

The Gigantic Ring that Built the Pacific Road-The Congressmen Who Were Bribed By It.

From the Chicago Tribune 1 In 1864, Congress chartered the Union Pacific Railroad Company. A few of the persons who had obtained control of that company purchased the charter of a corporation created by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, and organized a company known as the "Credit Mobilier of America." Mr. Oakes Ames, John B. Alley, H. S. McComb, and others became stockholders of the corporation known as the Credit Mobilier; and, as the executive managers of the Union Pacific Railway, they contracted with themselves, as the other corporation, to build the road. as the other corporation, to build the road. Congress had voted the Railroad Company a subsidy of $16,000 a mile for the eastern plains, $48,000 a mile upon the mountains, and $32,000 per mile upon the western plains. They were also authorized to issue firstmortgage bonds to an equal amount. The whole length of the road is 1,032 miles, for building which the Credit Mobilier received from the Railroad Company:

United States 6 per cent. bonds... 3,000,000

$57,474,000 taken advantage of the managers, and they declined issuing to McComb a certificate of the stock subscribed for by Fant. And it was in a suit before the courts in Pennsylvania, concerning these shares, that the whole inner history of the Credit Mobilier came out.

and its increase. Mr. Oakes Ames informed the Company that it was necessary to place some of the stock with certain parties, in or-der to help the road, and finally it was agreed that without prejudice to Mr. Mc Comb's claim, 247 shares of the Credit Mobilier stock (par value $100 each, but worth $600), was assigned to him, as Trustee, to "lo-cate." In the distribution of these shares, there was considerable discussion among the managers, and much correspondence. Amer had his lists, which were discussed, and finally he furnished a list of those shares ac-tually placed, and suggested how he intend-ed to dispose of the others. This list, thus furnished by Ames, was as follows:

FOWLER, of Tennessee. BOUTWELL, of Massach BINGHAM and GARFIELD, of Ohio

In Ames' letter to McComb, which will be found in another column, he states: "I have used this where it will produce most good to us, I think." In the other letter he says: 'I have assigned, as far as I have gone, four from Massachusetts; one from New Hampshire; one, Delaware; one, Tennessee; one-half, Ohio; two, Pennsylvania; ene, Indiana; one, Maine; and I have three to place." This confirms the list, except that later he had to give the Ohio members one each, and gave one to elder Bayard, of Dela-ware, who left the Senate in 1869.

It appears from the evidence that, at the time of this present, the accrued dividends amounted to several hundred per cent. of the par value of the stock. From these dividends was deducted the par value, and these several Senators and Representatives re-ceived the stock not only for nothing, but with a large surplus of accrued dividends. This was in January 1868, and if the reader will consult the table of dividends made during 1868, he can understand the profits refield, on the 12th, and sentenced to be hung.

Q. Do you mean to say that these persons had not previously agreed to subscribe for the stock as others had done? A. I had no information on that point.

Stock was given.
Q. Influence and support for what? A.
For anything affecting the Union Pacific Railroad Company in Congress.
In Mr. Ames's letter, dated at Washington, the capital stock of the "Credit Mobilier. and the distribution of the new issue "where it will protect us." The additional "incres distribution here, and soon." this distribution was made, Mr. Henry Wilson was a member of the Committee on the Pacific Railway in the Senate, Giving him stock which, with its profits, was worth $20. 000, Mr. Ames declared was placing it where "it will do the most good to us." For the same reason he tells McComb that he placed $20,000 in the hands of Boutwell, $20,000 to Dawes, $20,000 to Bingham, and $20,000 to Garfield, etc.

Speaker Blaine's denial of the charge, as regards himself, is as follows:

To the Editor of the Kennebec Journal The sensational story in the Boston Herald of yesterday, in regard to my ownership in the Credit Mobilier of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, in connection with Secretary Boutwell, Senator Wilson, and Messra. Dawes, Bingham, Garfield and others of the House of Representatives, is a mere campaign canard, utterly baseless and groundless. I never owned a dollar in the company in my life, either directly or indirectly through myself or through another. I de part in this instance from my usual practice of suffering campaign slanders to pass with-out notice, because this particular falsehood is circumstantially narrated, and is, I understand, to be widely distributed over the Third District in order to influence to vote on Monday next.

Supposing that Mr. Blaine's denial is broad enough to cover the real point and gravamen of the charge, to wit: that he never received any money, bonds, or other valuable consideration from the Credit Mobile or Umon Pacific Railroad Company, it occomes important to know whether A ses lied when he showed the list to McComb. In his second letter to McComb. he showed the list to McComb. In his second letter to McComb, Ames said "most of the purchasers here are poor, and want their bonds to sell to enable them to meet their payment on the stock of the C. M.

The man wouldn't stop pulling fodder, and the doctor, in order to keep along-side of him, commenced pulling the todder in the row he was walking in. When he had got fairly settled down to it, the farmer says: "Excuse tled down to it, the farmer says: me a minute, while I step over to the house—you just knock along with the girls here," and he left. At this the girls just made the fodder fly, going down the rows in double-quick time. The doctor manfully went in, hand over hand, shucked his coat, and did hand over hand, shucked his coat, and did his level best. He panted, he sweated, and yet he shoved along under the broiling sun while the farmer was on his piazza with his pipe lit, taking it cool, and laughing in his sleeves. In about an hour he went out to the field and released the doctor. They say the doctor never hinted "sheriff" to him, but jerked up his coat and left; and now he don't go in fodder fields for votes—he dodges 'em.

"We shall beat you, for we have got the money to do it with," is a standing boast of the workers on that side. That all the wealth of the country is on their side, is continually, though untruly, vaunted in leading Grant journals. Acting on the as-sumption that "every man has his price," sumption that "every man has his price," the managers of Grant's canvass are arrang-

The engineers of the "Credit Mobilier" will of course subscribe heavily to keep their doings cloaked from heavily to keep their doings cloaked from public scrutiny by keeping their friends in power. Thus the money covertly taken from the people is and will be employed to stave off investigation into the gainful iniquities of the past, and so pave the way for their facile repetition in the future. should wealthy citizens aid the two-term managers with money? A juvenile thief named James Shea is again in custody.

The Variety Works building is to be turned into a foundry. John Truesdale was yesterday adjudged not guilty of gambling. The Knights of Pythias cleared $226 95 by their Greencastle excursion. The admission of Conrad Drescher to bai will be determined on Monday. The county bailiffs have held an indigna tion meeting over that ice business. The Indiana School Journal for September is a sterling number, and in its management Prof. Bell has found his element. The pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church has turned author, having written a tract entitled "What to do for Jesus." The contents of that Noblesville stomach have been exhausted by Drs. Tomlinson and

Stevens, and no trace of poison found. Fletcher Shaw, living near Pendleton, while returning from the city last evening was thrown from his wagon and dangerously injured about the head. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held last night at the corner of Meridian and Mc-Carty streets, which was addressed by Hon,

C. F. McNutt and J. W. Nichol, Esq. H. H. Guffin, a Washington street drug gist, recived a broken ancle yesterday afternoon, consequent upon being thrown from a buggy during a runaway. His little son, riding with him at the time, escaped without injury. The patrons of two of our merchant policemen have determined to buy their new nniforms, and subscriptions have been taken up for that purpose. Both these gentlemen are worthy men, and deserving the assistance from their employers. The infant son of Chris. Fehr, living on Tinker street, near Illinois, fell into a swillbarrel in his father's door-yard, yesterday afternoon, and was suffocated. He was first missed about three o'clock, and not found for some time afterwards. The "Independent Grant Guards" have adopted a resolution that "no member shall, while on duty, drink any spirituous liquor or enter any drinking saloon; and if found guilty of violation of this rule, shall, for the first offense, make public acknowledgment before the next business meeting; for the second offense, be dismissed from the organization." Their conduct at Acton and their attack upon the Bartholomew county official necessitated some stringent rule, and it remains to be seen whether this is enforced or

The Greatness of God.

Majesty unspeakable and dread! Wert Thou less mighty than Thou art, Thou wert, O Lord, too great for our belief, Too little for our heart.

But greatness, which is infinite, makes room For all things in its lap to lie; We should be crushed by a magnificence, That of infinity,

It would outgrow us from the face of things, Still prospering as we decayed;
And like a tyrannous rival, it would feed
Upon the wracks it made.

But what is infinite must be a home, A shelter for the meanest life.

Where it is free to reach its greatest growth,
Far from the touch of strife.

We share in what is infinite: 'tis ours, For we and it alike are thine; What I enjoy, great God, by right of Thee Is more than doubly mine.

Thus doth Thy hospitable greatness lie Outside us like a boundless sea; We can not lose ourselves where all is home, Nor drift away from Thee.

Out on that sea, we are in harbor still, And scarce advert to winds and tides; Like ships that ride at anchor, with the waves Flapping against their sides.

Thus doth thy grandeur make us grand ourselves;
'Tis goodness bids us fear;
Tby greatness makes us brave as children are
When those they love are near.

Great God! our lowliness takes heart to play The only comfort of our litt. Is that Thou art so great.

Then on Thy grandeur I will lay me down; Already life is heaven for me; No cradled child more softly lies than it, Come soon, Etsrnity! [Faber.
